

FinKAB (<http://FinKAB.com/>), acronym for Financial Knowledge, Attitude and Behavior, is a young financial technology startup company which focuses on developing technology solutions to individuals to increase their awareness on financial literacy and financial product knowledge.

FinKAB strives to develop the best in class solution that revolutionizes financial literacy education, financial product knowledge and wealth ideas generator. We aim at helping individuals unleash their financial potential and achieve their goals. FinKAB is a member of the Incu-App programme at the Hong Kong Science & Technology Parks (HKSTP).

At FinKAB, we value open feedback, encourage discussion and constantly challenge each other to develop the best solution for everyone. We welcome young energetic developers to join us.

Responsibilities

- Working with the team to participate in the software development lifecycle (SDLC) which includes design, develop, implement and maintain of an interactive learning platform
- Understand our business needs and processes to deliver purpose built innovative solutions
- Willing to learn and implement new technology or framework to enhance the existing solution
- As part of a growing startup, you'll have the opportunity to move between a variety of important projects throughout the platform. We need our engineers to be versatile and enthusiastic about learning to tackle new problems every day, often working directly with stakeholders across the organization.

Requirements and Skills

- Degree in Computer Science / Engineering or related disciplines in Hong Kong
- Knowledge in Ruby on Rails in a production environment is a plus
- Experience with JavaScript and front-end frameworks, e.g., React, Angular
- Experience designing and evolving relational database schemas
- Experience building responsive single-page web applications
- Knowledge in writing, profiling, and optimizing SQL queries is an advantage
- Passion for innovation, and finding joy in building something new to help the communities
- Ability to work under pressure independently with minimum guidance
- Be comfortable to work in dynamic, flexible and agile work environment
- Fluent in Cantonese
- Eligible to work in Hong Kong
- Fresh graduates are welcome!

We offer an attractive remuneration package including 5-day work week and flexible benefits. Please submit your application with present and expected salaries to hr@finkab.com.